

THE VICTORIAN SOCIETY

BIRMINGHAM & WEST MIDLANDS

VICTORIAN AND EDWARDIAN DOMESTIC INTERIORS: PART TWO

A Day School organised by
The Victorian Society, Birmingham and West Midlands Group

Saturday 15th October 2016

10.15 am- 4.15 pm

£35 including lunch & refreshments

*At the Birmingham and Midlands Institute,
Margaret Street, Birmingham B3*

Our Speakers for this second Study Day of 2016 on the Victorian Domestic Interior will be Kit Wedd, author of The Victorian House, who will talk about the inventions which took some of the drudgery out of caring for the house. Our National Chairman Hilary Grainger will focus on the restoration of the Architect George's houses. Michael Parry, archivist with Sandersons, will take the emphasis to the detail of the impact of the wallpaper produced by the Sanderson and Morris and companies on the buying public and finally Mo Mund from the Living Loom Project will move onto Victorian and Edwardian carpet making.

We hope the day will give you much knowledge and interest, whether or not you were able to attend our first day School on The Domestic Interior earlier in the year. The cost is £35 to include tea/ coffee at registration, and a buffet lunch also with tea/coffee. Coffee will be available from 9.45 am.
